SecureMail

Automated signing and strong encryption of your company's emails

Centera SecureMail makes it easy for your company to sign and encrypt emails, protecting your data from unauthorized access. At the same time, the solution ensures that your company complies with relevant laws and regulations, such as GDPR and NIS2

When sending an email, Centera SecureMail will automatically check whether the recipient's address can receive encrypted emails. SecureMail will then automatically encrypt and sign the mail if the recipient meets the applicable security level.

When the company receives encrypted emails, Centera SecureMail will automatically decrypt them so that they can be read in the employee's inbox in the same way as regular emails.

In addition, Centera SecureMail offers an administrative interface where the company can customise settings and access a complete log of encrypted emails.

Centera's development, operation and support are based in Denmark, ensuring that all your questions are answered quickly and competently by experts via email and telephone.
